“ She was my mom, I'll forever miss her. When I was 2 years old she came into my life when my biological mother stepped out. Cindy was always there for me no matter how hard I was to handle. I didn't make it easy to love me, yet she never stopped. Not a single day has gone by where I haven't wished I could call her or text her and tell her how much I love her. For so many years I separated myself from my family because of circumstances within their household I didn't agree with. Now I wish I could go back and kick my young self for being so stubborn. I miss my momma and I hate going on in life without her there to comfort me when times are bad or when life is to much to handle. I love you so much mom
