“ I just heard about Dan's death today. I went to church with Dan and Vickie many years ago. Vickie was my babysitter for my older child before Marcie was born. Dan spent a lot of time holding, rocking and cuddling my son. I also work at Kroger, Dan popped in almost daily to grab a cup of coffee and greet each of us. He always had a smile on his face and a friendly word for everyone. He had a deep love for children and definitely displayed a genuine love of the Lord. He will be missed by many. You're all in my thoughts and prayers.##imported-begin##Linda Pearl##imported-end##

“ Sue and family,

I am not sure that you will remember me. I was a roommate with your sister Karen at Taylor University: in fact she introduced me to my husband, Jim. She was one of my very best friends and I remember visiting you home and family many years ago. Dan was a teenager at that time. I remember your home and wonderful family. Please accept my sympathy...It is hard to lose your child, We lost our daughter at age 16 in 1987. Tom and Karen were right there with us... God bless...Sally M.##imported-begin##Sally Mittlestedt##imported-end##

“ Dan was my father and he was the most amazing person I think I know or ever will know. He may have had a couple problems with his mental health every now and then but he got through them smiling. He never gave up even if people gave up on him. He truly was a gentle giant. If there was a single penny he had to donate he would without a second thought. He was always like that. He'd rather starve than watch someone else go without. I'm sure if he was starving he'd still be smiling too. That was one of the priorities in his life, smiling, the Lord, friends and of course family. I'm happy to see that he had an amazing time waiting for his real life to begin, and I know he's living it now. I bet he's looking down on all of us wishing we'd all just stop crying. But he's worth every tear being shed. I love him, every soul that ever met him loves him I'm sure.##imported-begin##Marcie Blair##imported-end##

“ We read of the passing of your son, Daniel here in PA. Tom and I moved here about 5 years ago to be nearer our daughter and family.

It is always sad when one loses a child, but God knows best and you will meet him again.

“ Dennis and Dan used to work together years ago. Dan always had such a sweet spirit with a great big smile! We used to enjoy visiting with him whenever we ran into each other out and about town. We are so glad we will be spending eternity with him. Looking forward to that reunion! We will remember him fondly as we pray for you, his family, during this painful time.##imported-begin##Dennis n Linda Croy and family##imported-end##

“ Dan has been my neighbor & friend for almost 8 years, I live in the 3rd floor apartment directly above his. He was D-1 and I'm D-3. I have met his parents & I believe 1 of his sisters, when they brought him the really comfortable burgundy recliner chair, for him to sit and watch TV in. I'm only 37 and on oxygen 24/7 and this has really been a shock. Dan was in perfect health, as far as it seemed anyway. At least I know he's in Heaven with his Lord and Savior. I don't have a car, or I would be there in person to tell you what Dan meant to me. I admire & marvel at the way that he never got angry and always made time for others. I don't think I EVER saw him frown! He used to refer to himself & me as the "old-timers of Skylane Apartments". We had seen so many tenants come & go. Most of the time, it was just me & him on this side of the building anyway. I've cried a lot & I have no doubt that more tears will come, but I'm so sorry for YOUR loss and you will remain in my thoughts & prayers. I know that beside his faith in God, his family meant everything to him. God Bless You and keep you in this time of need.
