“ I love you Aunt Debbie. I hope your passing was easy and you didn't suffer. I hope you are free and having a wonderful time with our loved ones on the other side. I pray we can all be together again healthy and happy. Have a good safe happy walk.

“ Smokey Bones was hilarious. Walmart was always fun when she rode the motorized wheelchair. Needless to say the police officer said he would sent a note home when I told her careful you may get pulled over on that thing. She was super not thrilled. Lol

“ One of the best memories Deb aka my adopted mom sitting next to me in the car. I am driving her home with my unbiological sister Amanda and I go let's go this way and she goes where are we going and I tell her I don't know wherever this road goes. I never been down this road. The look on her face was priceless. Needless to say I learned where that road went and we got where we're going without incident. She will be dearly missed and impacted every person she met.
