I worked Ed at H.T. for 20 years, I always called Ed General Thiele. He was the best mentor I had.

“ Heidi & family—We were so sorry to hear of your dad’s passing. There are so many memories of our families throughout the years of living down the road from each other. The card games, the bowling leagues, and the friendship of our moms are just a few things that come to mind when we think of your family. God’s peace and comfort to you at this time.

“ As the eldest living grandchild of the Thiele family, it's possible that I share many feelings with my wonderful cousins.

Rarely a day goes by that I don't thank God for being born and raised in our loving, Christian, beautiful Thiele family. What did I do to deserve such a family? There's nothing that any one of my aunts, uncles, cousins or siblings wouldn't do for any other person in our family, without judgement and with our hearts full. We're not perfect, but we try hard, we pray for each other and we trust that God will help us through our struggles and grief. Our grandparents and our parents led us by example and faith, and together we have gotten through some really hard times. This is one of those times.

I'm not alone in having loving memories with all of my aunts, uncles and grandparents. Whenever we gathered for any occasion, it would take us an hour to hug, kiss, and catch up with everyone else, and it took that long to say goodbye. That kind of love, is what makes it so hard for us to lose those who we have lost. But it's the same love that has made it easier too, because we know, through faith in God, that we will be together again. We know that because we were taught from birth that God has promised us that we will reunite one day. I don't know many people who have been so blessed as to be raised in a family with so much love. The more we love those who we are closest to, the more we tend to miss them. I loved my Uncle Ed so much, that I will miss him very much.

As long as we all continue to tell each other that we love each other, we will get through this together, with a heavy heart. I am grateful for this great big, imperfect, loving family that I'm so grateful to be a part of. And Uncle Ed, until we meet again, I love you and I will miss you!
