“ I am a great aunt to Huntre Nelson. He was born to my brothers son, Nathan here in Anchorage, Alaska where I live. I held him when he was just a few hours old and thought what a special person he is and now this has been proven although in a tragic way. No greater gift can one person give than to give their life to try and save another life and Huntre did that. I know that one day we will see Huntre again as I know and his great grandparents know that he is with God.###imported-begin###Linda Lampl###imported-end##

“ Thank you all so very much for your love and concern with this tragedy. We will never forget the unparralleled bravery of our dear one and only son when he jumped into the river to save his sister's life and she is still alive b/c of that. Thank you so much Brandy for your help with transportation for Huntre to headstart where he learned so much. We will never forget that or him and I just want everyone to know what a brave little boy he was, thank you all for your kind words of support, he will always be loved and treasured. He was such a good man before his time and will always be remembered for his heroism. Please never forget that. Love and peace to all.##imported-begin##Huntre's Dad##imported-end##

“ I am deeply sorrowed at the loss of your dear son and I pray that God will ease the pain that you bear. Our heavenly Father has promised that he is going to bring about changes on the earth by means of his Son, Christ Jesus. At that time all sickness, pain, and death will be removed from the earth forever and he promised that those asleep in death will be resurrected. (Rev.21:4; Isa.25:8; John 5:28,29)
