“ I currently live at Fort Myers Beach, Florida and often check the obituaries in my hometown of Bluffton (on the News-Banners website). I do not even know Joshua or the family but when I saw that someone so very young had passed I just got overwhelmed and immediately got a tear in my eye. Then I opened his article and his picture popped up.... well.... that big smile ... that huge huge smile was catching and I found myself with a smile on my face. My heart goes out to all of his family and friends! That picture oh that picture made me stop awhile and reflect. And yes, I even noticed the wall in the background LOVE need I say more? I'm sure he will be missed. Comfort to all....

“ Josh,

I'll never forget how and when we met. I'll never forget our silly conversations and our serious ones. I'm still in disbelief that this has happened. Yesterday, I cried as I read the article in the paper. I pray for your family: your mom, your sisters, your brother, your children. I know you aren't reading this and it's just me babbling on and on, but it helps, or so I'd like to believe. You were taken so young, but the Lord has a plan for Him allowing it to happen. I won't forget you.

To Josh's family,

Hold on to all of the memories that make you smile. Hold on to his silly, crazy personality. He was a one of a kind guy. He will forever be missed. I can only imagine what you are all feeling as a family. My heart goes out to you all. My the Lord bless your family richly. Hugs!

To Josh's children,

I know your daddy loved you because he talked to me about you all. Hold tightly to all the pictures you have of him and the many silly stories your family and friends tell you as you grown up. May the Lord watch over you all and protect your walk throughout life. God bless you!

Rest easy, Josh!!
