“ Cindy and I lived two blocks apart on East Arnold Street. We were classmates and friends, and by a strange coincidence, our mothers turned out to be roommates at Swiss village in their later years. Cindy and I had a chance to catch up when we sat at the same table at one of our class reunions. I send my condolences to her family and friends.

“ A tribute My Stepmother (Grandma C),

*What's ever been said about stepmother's?
Do they not deserve our praise, too?
They've came into our lives and our families,
to do what all mother's do!*

Our Stepmother, so longing to comfort, was determined that she'd not interfere. But she was always right there in the background, waiting lovingly to wipe away tears. She brought this family together and held it together.

Well, now you're not here, our dear Stepmother, but let me whisper just what's on my heart. I am happy that you joined our family, and of our life, I am glad you were a part. You brought me and my father together! You loved my sons. Those were your boys! Your grandchildren. I know we couldn't have managed if you hadn't been there silently loving us, praying.

I will miss you so much! Happy hours, ping pong, Thanksgiving Dinner. An the most memory of all is the song "The Lions Sleep Tonight". That's our song.

I love you and will miss you. Most importantly thanks so much for loving and taking care of my Dad!

I love you, Angela!
