“ Wanted to mention another thing about Marge. She helped make my living and dining room drapes (which were very large and heavy) for my home in Liberty Center, and they were still there when I sold the house and moved to Indianapolis. They were beautifully done! Thanks! Diana Sell

“ Marge was so nice to be around, loved talking to her! We were in homemakers club together for many years and attended the Liberty Center Baptist Church together. I visited her at home with in the last year or two, and she hadn't changed her outlook at all, she always showed her Christian spirit! Remembering her fondly, Diana Sell

“ How does one describe Marge Hayes? She was the kindest, sweetest, most honest person that you would want to know. We became friends when we were Brownie Scout Leaders at the Liberty Center Elementary School, and were members of the Liberty Homemakers Club, and that friendship has spanned over 40 years. When I was afraid to wallpaper an open stairway in a former home, she scaffold up and did it, She would always ask if I ever found the teeny tiny patch that she made when doing it. Marge would say that she had a child older than me, but it never seemed that she was that much older, because she had such a bright, young attitude but--she could scold me if need be. In all the years of knowing Marge, she normally had something good to say about even anyone she might not like very well. When we would attend any functions, she would give me a hug and say "I love you" and of course the feeling was mutual. Such a humble lady, and when I nominated her for Homemaker of the Year, she didn't think that she deserved it, but anyone who knew her believed that she did. She loved God, her Family, and her Friends. "I love you" Marge and my life was made so much richer by having known you. Beryl
