“ To Marie, and Steve B.,
Please accept my condolences on the passing of Max. I used to run into him every morning on the Rivergreenway, and always greeted him "Good Morning". I never got much response, I perceived that he was a man of few words, but he was pleasant. I was always impressed that he was there every morning, because he seemed to struggle, and when he wasn't, I wondered where he might be. May God's Peace surround you and the rest of your family as you walk through these next few days, and into the future.

Sincerely,
Linda Reiff

Thanks Linda. You're right, Max was rather shy but believe me even if he didn't answer you could rest assure he was meaning it. God Bless You.

Thank you Linda for your kind words! Dad certainly loved walking the Rivergreenway, even on days when he probably shouldn't have been out and about. Very determined man and yes, a quiet one also. Your condolences are greatly appreciated!
