I have known her since the early 60's when my twin brother and Inwould go to the flower shop where she worked! My Mom and her worked together for many years! “ There's so many things that are wonderful memories of my Aunt Pat but one of them was that no matter the time of day or evening, when we walked into her home... just after hugging us and telling us how good it was to see us, she headed to the kitchen asking 'what we wanted to drink', and saying 'I know I have some things in the refrigerator; let me get you something to eat'. Then she would march around the kitchen pulling out dishes, glasses, a cup for Dad to the never-ending pot of coffee; all the while asking us what we were doing in Bluffton and talking about Cheryl & Mike.

When I was older, I would go in the kitchen with her and try to help. Aunt Pat would lightly smack my hands, give me her little sideways smirk and tell me 'she wasn't so old that she needed help yet'. That didn't stop me from doing that every time we visited and it didn't stop her from doing the same response... guess that was our little Auntie and Niece dance!
