“ Memory that I will never forget. I was babysitting for the kid's. They got a new microwave. I had never used one before and I fixed a box of banquet chicken and using a regular oven direction. When it was done and had them come eat. Terry picked up his peice from his plate. Looking at me laughing and said that he was not going to eat the chicken because it was like wood. Great memories

“ From day one of meeting Terry, I felt love from him. we went to a church in Southern Indiana, at that point with our talks on the way I knew he was a loving husband, father and grandfather. I also new he was a Christian man. From talks on the phone, seeing him at Kroger, and playing music with him he always made you smile. This man will be missed by many.
